Joseph McGucken

Joseph is a uniquely versatile performer who specialises in natural acting. He is predominantly recognized for his online comedy sketches that bring to life relatable characters in everyday scenarios that we can all associate with.

He has over fifteen years of on-screen performance experience during which he's worked with directors such as Ger Walsh, Jonathan Lambert, Dave Coffey and Conor McMahon.

Joe has participated in many acting/comedy workshops honing his craft, and has been trained in writing by Roddy Doyle. He has been involved in the film and television industry from a very young age, working with RTÉ and [Still Films] to write and perform in the first season of Sweded TV. He was a participant in the Reel Youth Film Festival and has been involved ever since. He is an acting/writing facilitator for the festival now helping the youths from disadvantaged areas to get involved in TV & Film.
